

Enabling data transactions: High-Value Datasets and Model Contractual Terms in data legislation

Legal enablers for data sharing: state of play and path forward

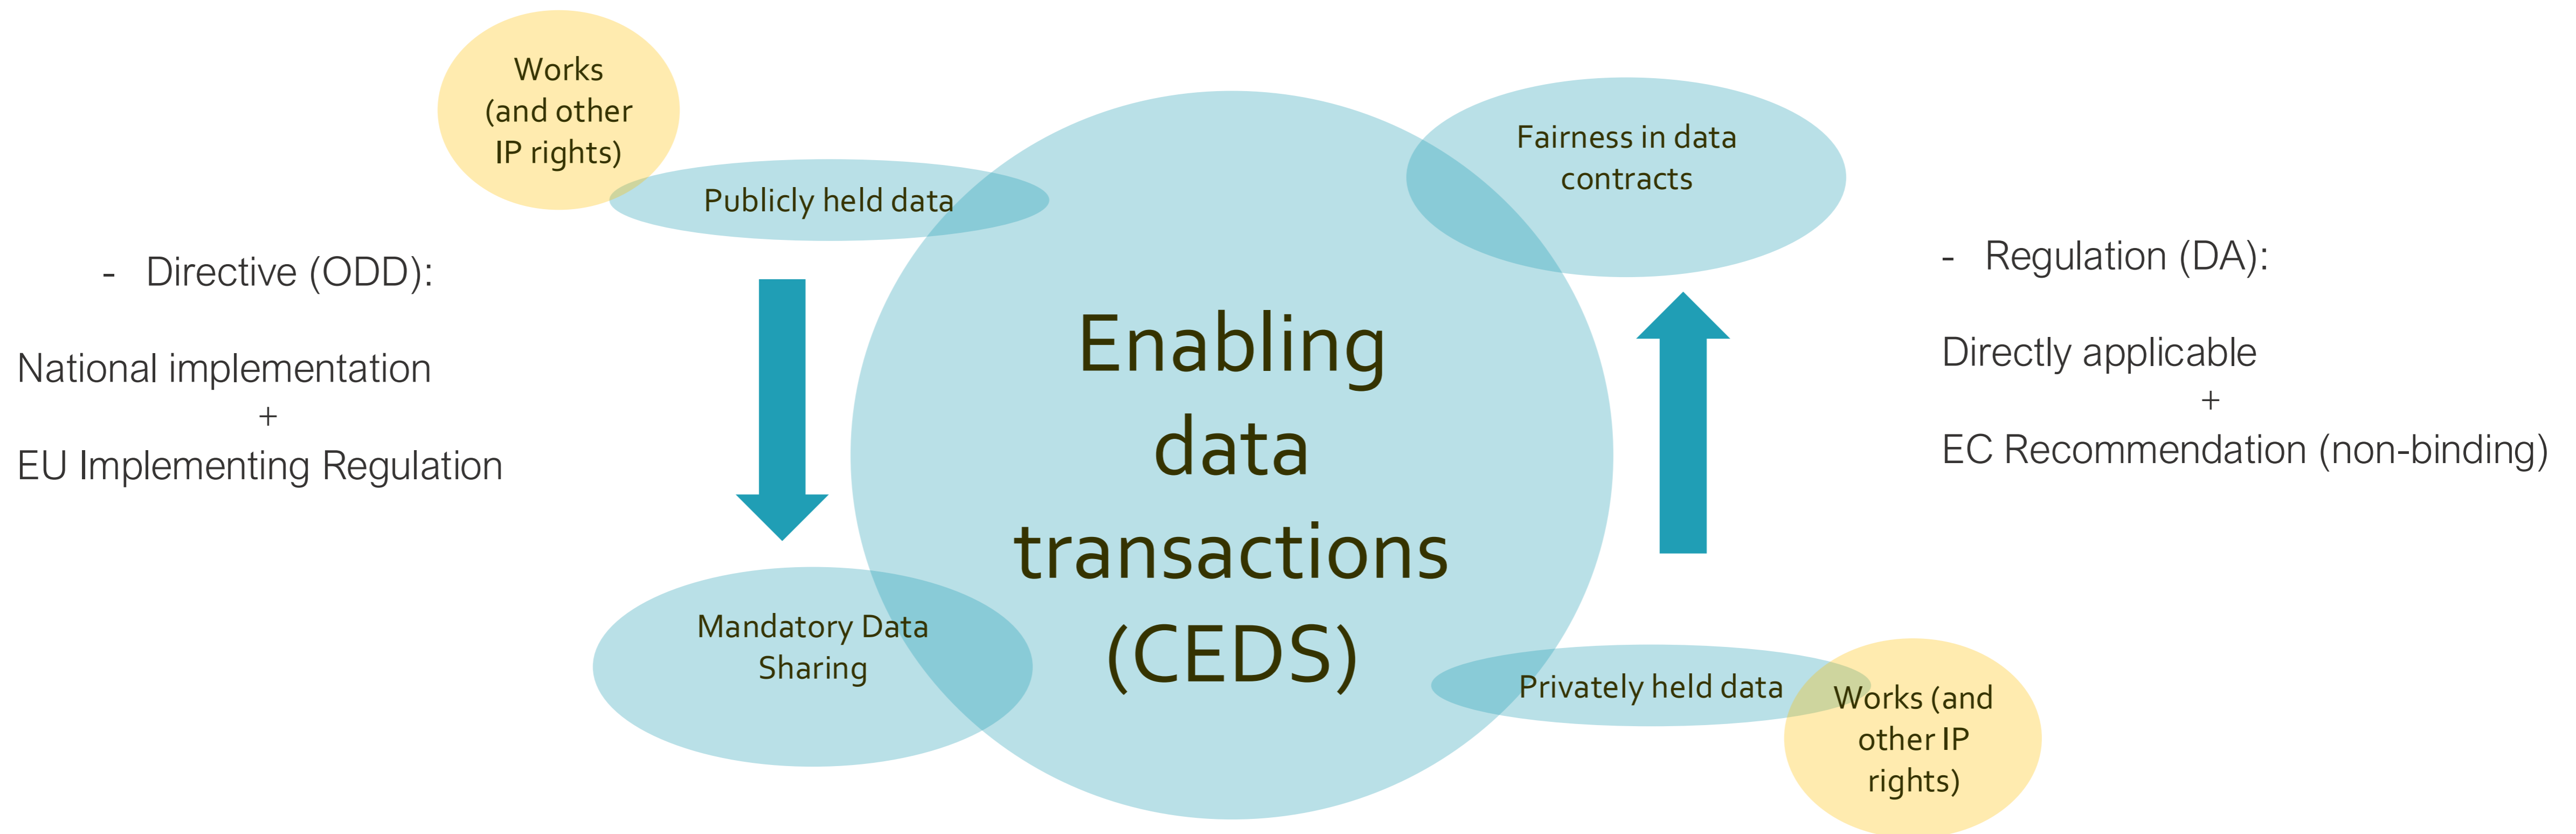

Data Space Symposium 2026 - Madrid

Prof. Dr. Thomas Margoni
Research Professor of Intellectual Property Law
Director of the IP&IT Law Programme
Centre for IP & IT Law (CiTiP) Faculty of Law and Criminology - KU Leuven

How to enable data transactions

- Legal approach
- Two examples
- High Value Datasets (HVDs) in ODD
- Model Contractual Terms (MCTs) in DA
- Data and other legal categories (e.g., IP) and need for “interlinkers”

Two regulatory levers - One objective

DSSC Legal

The screenshot shows the Data Spaces Support Centre website. The navigation bar includes 'About', 'Resources', 'Communities', 'Awards', 'News', 'Events', 'Support', 'Contact us', and 'More'. The left sidebar shows a 'Blueprint' menu with categories like 'Data Spaces Blueprint v2.0 - Home', 'Introduction - Key Concepts of Data Spaces', 'Building Block Overview', 'Business and Organisational Building Blocks', 'Business Building Blocks', 'Governance Building Blocks', 'Legal Building Blocks', 'Regulatory Compliance', 'Contractual Framework', 'Technical Building Blocks', and 'Co-Creation Method'. The main content area is titled 'Legal Building Blocks' and includes a sub-header 'Created 7 March, 2025'. The text explains that 'Regulatory Compliance' and 'Contractual Framework' building blocks aim to enhance understanding of compliance and contract issues. It lists two bullet points: 'Regulatory Compliance' (highlighting key elements for ensuring compliance) and 'Contractual Framework' (providing a functional overview of essential contracts). A paragraph states these blocks are designed to provide a basic approach to organizing compliance. At the bottom, there are links for 'Regulatory Compliance' and 'Contractual Framework'.

The cover features a blue-to-green gradient background. The title 'The Economics of Data Sharing: Insights from a Legal-Economics Workshop' is prominently displayed in white text. Below the title, the authors are listed: 'Prof. Dr. Thomas Margoni, Leona King, Marta Musidlowaska, Francesca Portante d'Alessandro & Leander Stähler'.

The cover features a blue-to-green gradient background. The Data Spaces Support Centre logo is in the top right corner. The text 'REPORT | 1 2026' is in the top left. The main title 'Legal Landscape Shaping Data Spaces' is centered in large white font.

The cover features a blue-to-green gradient background. The Data Spaces Support Centre logo is in the top right corner. The text 'Draft version | January 2025 | Version 1.0' is in the top left. The main title 'Legal Compass' is centered in large white font.

Thank you very much!

www.dssc.eu

www.citip.be